

MIDLAND ARMS “BACKPACK” LINE OF SINGLE BARREL LONG GUNS

WELL BUILT, INNOVATIVE AND PRICED RIGHT.

Finding a single-barrel shotgun that is both inexpensive and reliable has proven to be difficult to find recently. New entrants to the category seem to focus on either being the cheapest priced gun, or just another me-too single barrel shotgun.

Midland Arms new “Backpack” line of single-barrel long guns combines a tried-and-true fold-over design with new features for young shooters, and a level of quality unseen at the line’s entry-level price-point.

Midland Backpacks feature precision machined 4140 steel receivers and breech blocks, with deep-hole drilled barrels with screw-in chokes, a feature rarely seen on single shots. That precision machining allows for barrel interchangeability of shotgun, as well as rimfire and rifle barrels. Midland has started its production with shotguns in .12, .20 and .410, and will be introducing rimfire barrels and guns in Spring, 2018, with centerfire calibers to follow in the Fall.

The stocks have steel sling swivel studs installed and are weather-resistant polymer with removable extenders allowing the length of pull to start at 12 ¾” for young shooters and increase ½” at a time as a young shooter grows. The removable buttstock reveals a storage area in the buttstock that houses a Midland Survival Kid (sold separately). Finally, the checkering at the wrist and forend can be taken off like a pistol grip and be replaced with different colored one’s in the exact colors of teams in all major sports. (Football, basketball, soccer, NASCAR, etc.).

All Midland Backpacks come with a full one-year warranty, that can be tripled, for free, to three year by signing up for the extended warranty on the Midland website, www.shootmidland.com

The website also provides additional information on models, features and where to buy a Midland Backpack.
